The deposit required is equivalent to the estimated tuition and fees for the first academic year of your program, as listed on your Conditional Letter of Acceptance. $10,000 of the deposit is non-refundable and non-transferable except in the following situations:

Revoked Offer

If you have been admitted conditionally based on i.e. IELTS results or high school grades and these results make you ineligible, your offer will be revoked as you have not met the conditions of the offer. A refund of the deposit can be requested by emailing the Registrar registrar@okanagan.bc.ca.

Study Permit Delay

If your study permit is delayed, you may apply to move your deposit, tuition and fees one time only. You must notify us by the second Friday after the start of your program (first Friday in May and July terms). If the program is not open for applications in the subsequent term, you may be required to apply and pay another $100 application fee.

If, after deferring your admission to a subsequent term, you are unable to start in that term, we will refund only the portion of the deposit, tuition and fees paid over and above $10,000. You must notify us by the second Friday after the start of your program (first Friday in May and July terms).

Study Permit Denial

If your study permit is denied, we require a copy of the rejection letter. You must notify us by the second Friday after the start of your program (first Friday in May and July terms) to receive a full refund of your deposit and fees with the following exception:

If your study permit application is rejected by IRCC for fraud/alleged fraud or other dishonesty, Okanagan College reserves the right to retain the entire deposit, tuition and fees paid.
